Art is our life. . .

METROPOLITAN

Art beckoned us once,

with bright splashes of color,

soft murmurings of sound,

scattered notes of music . . .

whispered hints

of something wonderful around us and within us.

Hearing its call,

and wanting its beauty,

we came together,

bringing with us

all the individual talents of our childhood;

all the varied impressions

we had gathered

as untrained observers of art.

MAXWELL HOUSE

We had seen with infant eyes

the grandeur of the Master Craftsman, and so we came as apprentices,

eager in the hope of learning more of Him.

Our minds were as blank but readied canvases, sized and textured by adept hands.

At first, weak, uncertain strokes were our only endeavor . . .

we could not hope to create a thing of beauty.

With time and reassurance the strokes became bolder and somewhat confused, but the barely perceptible outlines were beginning to take form.

Adroit and generous masters carefully guided our awkward motions, pointed out
our weaknesses, bolstered our waning morale.

McAuley Hall

Auditorium Mount Saint Agnes College

Friday and Saturday Dec. 13 - 14

The newness and excitement of our endeavor bound us irrevocably.

Our individual strivings were muted together in contrapuntal harmony.
Strains of laughter and song mingled with ever-increasing strength and vitality.

We exercised at the barre of maturity.

Once limber we could bound freely or stand in positions impossible before our practice.

The innumerable facets of our art filled world constantly surprised us.

We found ourselves,

in a single precious moment,

in company with the greatest personages of religion, philosophy,

literature,

music,

drama,

and science.

The merrymaking of our evenings was not the antithesis,

but the complement,

of the laboring of our days.

Song and dance and conversation were bright tools of our craft.
Life was our subject;
life's activities were our materials.

Four seasons we have been at our task.

Four seasons we have seen,

and read,

and heard

the works of the masters.

Our apprenticeship has been brief;
we have touched only the outer surface of our dream.

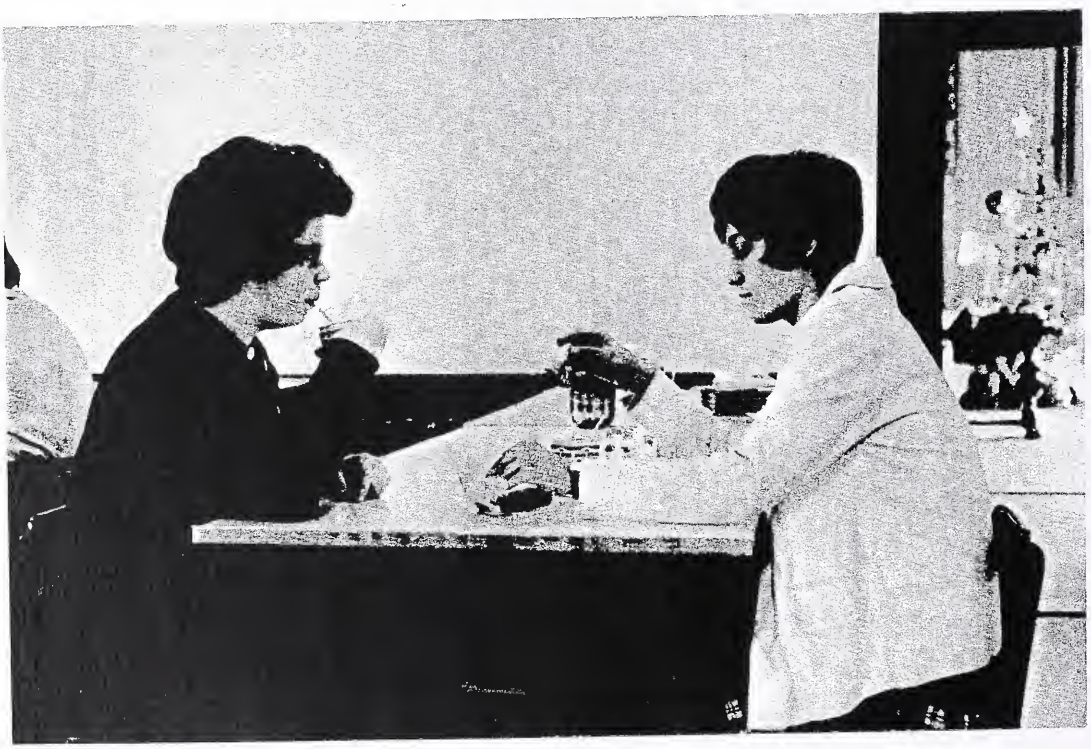
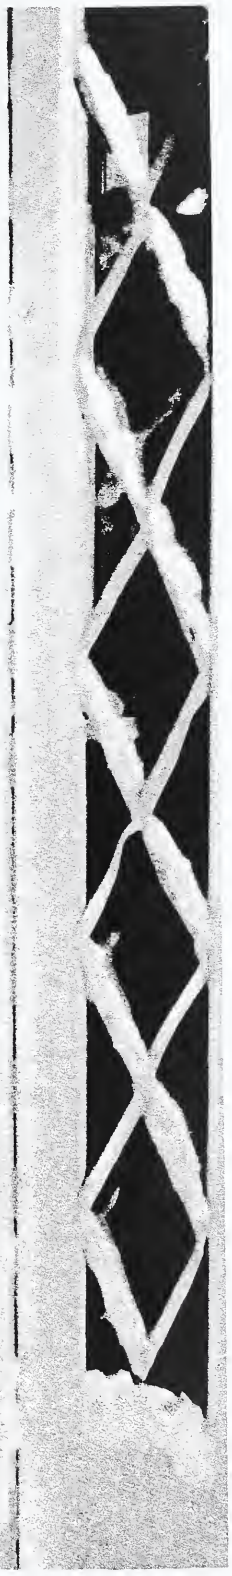
But the importance is that we have touched it—

we have not merely looked and turned away.





We have seen,

and loved,

and begun to know.

We have been offered the best of all that has come before us.
We have been given all that is necessary for the creation of a masterpiece.

What was given us here
we shall keep,
And if it suffices not,
then again
must we come together and together stretch our hands unto the Giver.

KATHLEEN BAKER
B.A., Psychology

Great things thro' greatest hazards are achiev'd,
And then they shine.

KATHLEEN THERESE BISHOP
B.A., Speech Therapy

Her smile was prodigal of summery shine,— Gaily persistent,— like a morn in June.

LESLIE PATRICIA BOSS
B.S., Medical Technology

All is concentr'd in a life intense,
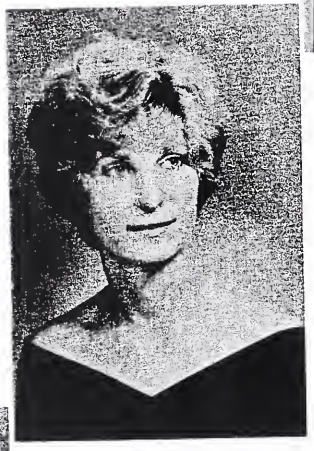
Where not a beam, nor air,
nor leaf is lost,
But hath a part of being.



DIANE DOROTHY BRASKIS
B.S., Medical Technology

Humility, that low, sweet root,
From which all heavenly virtues shoot.

MARY ROSE BUCKLEY
B.A., Chemistry

Rare compound of oddity, frolic, and fun
Who relished a joke and rejoiced in a pun.

ELLEN MARY CARSON
B.A., Elementary Education

The silence often of pure innocence, Persuades,
when speaking fails.

ELIZABETH URSULA CALLEIA
B.A., Psychology

That man must daily wiser grow, Whose search is bent himself to know.

JEAN POE CHAN
B.A., History

Haste thee, Nymph, and bring with thee
Jest and youthful jollity.

CAROLYN DOROTHY COLL
B.A., Secondary Education

He that respects himself is safe from others;
He wears a coat of mail that none can pierce.

CONCETTA MARY CONIGLIARO
B.A., History

For his bounty,
There was no winter in't;
an autumn 'twas,
That grew the more by reaping.

VALERIE ELIZABETH COPPOLA
B.S., Medical Technology

What'er he did was done with so much ease,
In him alone 'twas natural to please.

EILEEN ELIZABETH COYLE
B.A., Speech Therapy

Wit is the loadstar of each human thought, Wit is the tool by which all things are wrought.

ANTOINETTE CUNEO
B.S., Medical Technology

Sport, that wrinkled Care derides,
And laughter holding both his sides.

CONSTANCE MARIE DAUBER
B.S., Medical Technology

Reign, and keep life in this desire,
Our only greatness is that we aspire.

JoANNE SHAW CURRIE
B.S., Medical Technology

Confidence is conqueror of men; victorious both over them and in them.

ELIZABETH ANNE DAY
B.A., Secondary Education

In joys, in grief, in triumph . . .
Great always,
without aiming to be great.

JANET EILEEN DELL
B.S., Medical Technology

With gentle, yet prevailing force,
Intent upon her destined course.

EILEEN CAROLE DeVIDO
B.S., Elementary Education

Keep your dreams: they shall at last come true
And God by them shall know that it is you.

PATRICIA ARLENE DOUD
B.S., Medical Technology

A life that leads melodious days.

RUTH ANN DOSCHER
B.A., English

The world is a looking glass and gives back to every man the reflection of his own face.

MARY TERESA ELLARD
B.S., Medical Technology

A woman's noblest station is retreat;
Her fairest virtues fly from public sight.

MARY FRANCES EVERETT
B.S., Medical Technology

Love, hope, fear, faith,— these make humanity;
These are its sign, and note,
and character.

LINDA ANN FACONDINE
B.S., Medical Technology

For in the dew of little things the heart finds its morning and is refreshed.

ERNESTA LUCILLE FERRARA
B.A., Elementary Education

Of manners gentle, of affections mild!
In wit a man, simplicity a child.

SUSANNE MARIE FEUGE
B.A., Elementary Education

Where thy form and favor come,
All good creatures have their home.

KATHERINE MARIE GELSINON
B.A., Elementary Education

O Joy, thou viewless spirit, canst thou dare
To tell the pillars of thy house?

HARRIET LYNN FRENCH
B.S., Medical Technology

The warmth of genial courtesy,
The calm of self-reliance.

PATRICIA LOU GRUBITZ
B.A., Speech Therapy

They serve God well, who serve His creatures.

MARY KATHLEEN GUNNING
B.A., Secondary Education

Age cannot whither her,
nor custom stale
Her infinite variety.

PATRICIA RAE HANDERHAN
B.A., Elementary Education

For where is any author in the world Teaches such beauty as a women's eye?

GERALDINE HASCO
B.A., Chemistry

To those who know thee not,
no words can paint
And those who know thee, know all words are faint.

ALICE MAGDALENE HEALEY
B.A., Elementary Education

The teacher who walks in the shadow of the temple, among his followers,
gives not of his wisdom,
but rather of his faith and his lovingness.

MARY HOGAN
B.A., Sociology

For that eye is so modestly beaming,
You ne'er think of mischief she's dreaming.

PATRICIA HUGHES
B.A., Secondary Education

There are moments when silence, prolonged and unbroken,
More expressive may be then all words ever spoken.

BARBARA ANNE HOWSER
B.A., Chemistry

In every rank, or great or small,
'Tis industry supports us all.

CAROLYN PATRICIA JUNICE
B.S., Medical Technology

And as the bright sun glorifies the sky
So is her face
illumin'd with her eyes.

MARY ELLEN KAHLER
B.A., Chemistry

Peace rules the day, where reason rules the mind.

JEAN LOUISE KAVANAGH
B.A., Mathematics

Wisdom and goodness are twin born, one heart Must hold both sisters, never seen apart.

CAROL ANN KRASTEL
B.S., Medical Technology

What then remains, but well
our power to use,
And keep good-humor still,
whate'er we lose.

SUSAN CARTAN KRAFT
B.A., Speech Therapy

There is no pleasure like the pain
Of being loved, and loving.

KAY ELAINE LAUGERMAN
B.S., Medical Technology

Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye,
In every gesture dignity and love.

MARGARET WILSON LEARY
B.A., Biology

We live in deeds, not years;
in thoughts, not breaths,
In feelings,
not in figures on a dial.

NANCY ANN LYNCH
B.S., Medical Technology

Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control,
These three alone lead life to sovereign power.

MARY DOROTHY MACATEE JONES
B.A., Mathematics

Time, place, and action,
may with pains be wrought,
But genius must be born.

NANCY MARY MARC
B.S., Medical Technology

Silence is the speech of love,
The music of the spheres above.

MARTHA MARY MONIUS
B.A., Secondary Education

Oh, noble soul!
which neither gold, nor love,
Nor scorn can bind.

JOYCE MARIE McNALLY
B.A., History

Beauties in vain
their pretty eyes may roll; Charms strike the sight,
but merit wins the soul.

LYNN MARIE MORRIS
B.A., Elementary Education

That caressing and exquisite grace—never bold, Ever present—which just a few women possess.

ARLENE MARY MUTHIG
B.S., Medical Technology

Of all our parts, the eyes express
The sweetest kind of bashfulness.

JOYCE CATHERINE NEUBERT
B.A., Mathematics

Roam on! The light we sought is shining still . . .
Our scholar travels yet
the loved hillside.

CATHERINE JOAN NUGENT
B.A., French

Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes
He smiles upon the earth.

FRANCES THOMAS NULTY
B.S., Medical Technology

A willing heart adds feather to the heel,
And makes the clown
a winged Mercury.

MARGARET MARY POHLHAUS
B.A., Secondary Education

To me more dear,
congenial to my heart
One native charm, than all the gloss of art.

LUCRETIA ELAINE REESE
B.A., Biology

Nature ever yields reward
To him who seeks, and loves her best.

COLLEEN RUTH RADIGAN
B.A., Elementary Education

Give me a look, give me a face,
That makes simplicity a grace.

AUDREY ROSENGARDEN
B.A., Elementary Education

Strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find,
and not to yield.

RITA MARIE RUSS
B.A., Sociology

The great essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love,
and something to hope for.

MARGARET RYSTICKEN
B.A., Psychology

Heart of her lips,
and soul within her eyes,
Soft as her clime,
and sunny as her skies.

MARIE BARBARA SCHREINER
B.A. Psychology

Great hearts have largest room to bless the small;
Strong natures give the weaker home and rest.

DIANA MARIE SANCHES
B.A., Psychology

Your face, my Thane, is as a book, where man
May read strange matters.

ELIZABETH CONCETTA SCICCHITANO
B.A., Mathematics

To get thine ends,
lay bashfulness aside;
Who fears to ask,
doth teach to be deny'd.

CYNTHIA LEE STRAUFF
B.A., Sociology

Doing easily what others find difficult is talent;
doing what is impossible for talent is genius.

ELEANOR JANE SMITH
B.S., Medical Technology

As the greatest only are,
In her simplicity sublime.

KATHERINE IRENE TANNER
B.A. Secondary Education

Truth that's brighter than gem,
Trust, that's purer than pearl.

CECELIA IRENE STEM
B.S., Medical Technology

Though lost to sight,
to memory dear
Thou ever wilt remain.

DOREEN ELEANOR THERIAUL
B.S., Medical Technology

Beautiful hands are those that do Work that is earnest and brave and true.

JANET PATRICIA TOBIN
B.A., Sociology

I send my heart up to thee, all my heart
In this my singing!

COLLEEN THERESA WHITTINGHILL
B.A., Sociology

There is no duty
we underrate so much as the duty of being happy.

LEPA TOMIC
B.A., Psychology

Great truths are portions of the soul of man; Great souls are portions of Eternity.

ELEANOR PATRICIA WISE
B.A., Elementary Education

The grace of heaven,
Before, behind thee,
and on every hand,
Enwheel thee round.

MARY SHEILA WANGENHEIM
B.S., Medical Technology

True happiness Consists not in the multitude of friends
But in the worth and choice.

MARGARET ANN WOLF
B.A., Elementary Education

There is a kind of character in thy life,
That to the observer doth thy history fully unfold.
